

While the aggregation program has been extremely successful during the first two years (average resident savings have been $380), the ComEd rate is currently competitive with the aggregation program's pricing. With no early termination fees, residents are free to leave the aggregation program at any time to move to ComEd or other suppliers. Should those rates later rise, residents are free to move back to the Village's aggregation program or any other retail rate. There would be no switching fees to move back to/from ComEd.

The ComEd rate is now re-set twice a year, and has an additional component that can change monthly, resulting in monthly price swings up to 1.0¢. The "all in" ComEd rate now varies considerably, and we will update our website periodically to reflect these changes (below).

If a resident chooses to purchase its electricity from ComEd, they would pay 3 individual charges each month. Those charges consist of: energy, transmission and the PEA. The energy + transmission charge is 7.43¢ through June 2015.

However, residents who purchase their power from ComEd would also see a third charge on their ComEd bill for the Purchased Electricity Adjustment (PEA). This can be a charge or a credit of up to 0.5¢, and can change monthly. Therefore, the "all in" ComEd rate will range from 6.93¢ to 7.93¢ till June 2015.

Residents are free to leave the aggregation program at any time with no early termination fees. Residents can later re-join the aggregation should they so choose. The Village's aggregation rate of 7.74¢ will be available to residents through August 2017. (Note: should a resident leave the aggregation program and move back to ComEd, they would be required to stay with ComEd for a minimum of 6 months before moving back into the aggregation program.)

Essentially, the Village's aggregation program has capped the rate that residents should pay through August 2017. Should the marketplace create opportunities to purchase power at lower rates, residents are free to leave with no charge/penalties.

Any resident desiring to move back to ComEd should contact Constellation at 1-800-718-1493. Have your account number when you place the call.

Residents can find alternative priced rates from other suppliers at www.PlugInIllinois.org.

Residents with questions can call our consultant, NIMEC, at 1-800-727-3820.

In summary, the Village aggregation program has no early termination fees. Residents are free to return to ComEd (or other suppliers) at any time. Should the ComEd rates later be set above the Village's aggregation rate, residents would be free to return, by calling Constellation at the above number.
