Sand Ridge Nature Center to host Family Fun Day
Leave No Child Inside event to offer games, scavenger hunt

The public is invited to Sand Ridge Nature Center from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 24, for Leave No Child Inside: Family Fun Day, located at 15891 Paxton Avenue in South Holland, Ill.

This event is free to the public.

“The event is entirely outdoors and will include a nature scavenger hunt, several stations that feature an activity or game, shelter-building area using natural materials and even a relay race,” said Jeanette Louis, assistant director of Sand Ridge Nature Center.

The goal of the event is to encourage people to spend more time outdoors in the forest preserves by walking on the trails, visiting nature centers, and joining in games and activities. For additional details, people can call Sand Ridge Nature Center directly at 708-868-0606.

Sand Ridge Nature Center is one of six nature centers operated by the Forest Preserves of Cook County offering a variety of educational events and festivals throughout the year. Other free activities are hosted at various locations by Forest Preserves staff.

Complete listings of all programs are posted to FPCC’s online events system at www.fpdcc.com along with downloadable seasonal brochures.
